Greeting Fellow Australians

And friends about the World, it can be reported now the Whole Australian Federal Parliament, all sides of politics support Terrorism about the World carried out by Islamic Radicals hired by the USA, Israel, NATO, Britain, to over thrown other duly elected Governments in the World Washington DC want to make "Puppet Client States".

For and on behalf of the London / Wall Street Bankers, Other International Zionist Bankers, The Oil Cartels, The Security & Military Industrial Complex and the other big Fortune 500 Companies listed in America.

All sides of politics in Australia are (Zionist Israeli – American Puppets) who take their marching orders from Washington DC and Tela Viv, Israel.

Anybody who steps outside the "Matrix Of Lies, Deception, Properganda" told by the Americans & Israeli's soon lose pre-selection at the ballot box, until a political party hack and yes man comes forward and follow orders.

American Embassy's Around The World – A Cover

All American Embassy's around the World can be considered "Cover Fronts" for recruiting, arming, hiring Radicals to overthrow Governments Washington DC and Tel Aviv want to make "Puppet Client States"

Evidence to support this can be seen, researched and information collected about US Ambassadors to Libya, Yemen, Somalia, Egypt, Sudan and Syria activities have been recorded, written about and exposed in the Independent Alternative Media.

The Mainstream Zionist Controlled Media in most western countries still wont report and of this or what you about to read soon, some of the stories we have collected.

US Ambassadors in all these countries behind the scenes were very active in the recruitment, training, arming Radical Islamic nut jobs to stage over throws of the above Governments and install Puppet Regimes 1000% more dangerous, murderous, criminal then the Regimes they over threw.

CIA Station Chiefs work hand – in – hand with these USA Ambassadors to achieve Washington DC "Foreign Policy Agenda" and the "Fake War On Terror"

- Project For The New American Century

&

- The Clean Break Plan

Ex – Labour Senator Mark Habib was outted as the “Treasonous” – “Traitorous” Scumbag answering to the US Ambassador in Canberra, passing on “Secrets” from Cabinet Meetings and Inner Party Meetings, keeping the Americans in Canberra abreast of any news what so ever.

Specially making sure both political parties in Australia stayed the course of supporting Washington DC and Tel Aviv “War On Terror” doctrine without diverting.

Both Major Political Parties Have Signed ON

- John Howard and his Senior Cabinet Ministers and party signed on
- Kevin Rudd and his Senior Cabinet Ministers and party signed on
- Julia Gillard and her Senior Cabinet Ministers and party signed on
- Tony Abbott / Julie Bishop and their Senior Shadow Cabinet Members and party signed on
- Christine Milne and the Greens, well they are just an extension of the Labour Party and dare not ask any questions.

Parliament Question Time

I don't know what they are putting in the Water & Food at Parliament House, but talk about sheer garbage being sprouted by members of Parliament who know nothing about Terror, Terrorism, or Terrorist these people mouth off without checking their facts.

If you try and ring their Office and correct them or try and educate them to the truth who really is carrying out Terrorism around the World.

Arrogant – ugly – fugly Office staff insist they are the Government and they know best, and the truth, we the general public know nothing.

The Whole House Of Cards Is Crashing About The Americans

Well blow horn, dumb ass, corrupt lying Canberra Politicians looks like all your lies these years supporting the Americans with their “War On Terror” has blown up in your faces.

The Whole World knows what this “Fake War On Terror” is about, a War for Resources World Wide, with the following people - entities using the mighty American Military to achieve their goals, dreams, plans.

“Utter & Absolute Control” of all Worlds Resources for and on behalf of these people > > > > > > London / Wall Street Bankers, Other International Zionist Bankers, The Oil Cartels, The Security & Military Industrial Complex and the other big Fortune 500 Companies listed in America.

The following stories will prove all the above what I said is true and correct, and for the record prove both major political parties in Australia and all The Federal Parliament liars.

The following evidence doesn't lie!

The following exposes the truth how Washington DC & Tel Aviv are the two Terrorist Nations in the World today with Australia supporting them.

Human Rights Watch: "Syrian Rebels" Guilty of Torture, Murder

As West's narrative unravels - cognitive infiltration begins.

Wednesday, September 19, 2012

US, UK, NATO, Saudi, and Israeli backed terrorists carrying out a campaign of systematic atrocities in Syria have finally been acknowledged and reported on by Human Rights Watch, who has for nearly 2 years intentionally portrayed the conflict as one-sided violence carried out by the Syrian government alone.

With evidence and admissions emerging that the so-called "Syrian rebels" are in fact Libyan terrorists, armed, funded, and flown in by NATO to cross into Syria and attack government troops.

Organizations like Human Rights Watch have faced deteriorating legitimacy, even with watered-down admissions like their most recent report titled, "Syria: End Opposition Use of Torture, Executions."

In the report, Human Rights Watch admits, "armed opposition groups have subjected detainees to ill-treatment and torture and committed extrajudicial or summary executions in Aleppo, Latakia, and Idlib."

Much of the torture described by Human Rights Watch involves obtaining false confessions by victims, admitting tat they are "shabeeha" militiamen.

The Western media has long excused terrorists operating in Syria for their atrocities, claiming that the victims were "suspected" shabeeha.

It now appears, as was suspected all along, these victims were innocent, and the Western press, the BBC and CNN in particular, were complicit in covering up egregious crimes against humanity.

Human Rights Watch also acknowledged that those carrying out the atrocities are indeed the same groups being financed and armed by Western nations, and "urged countries assisting opposition groups to condemn publicly the human rights and humanitarian law abuses by those groups."

Of course, despite the West using reports produced by Human Rights Watch, Amnesty International - and other faux-NGOs funded and directed by the very interests arming terrorists in Syria.

To justify the violent subversion of the Syrian government, it is already evident that reports illustrating that human rights abuses are being carried out by Western-backed terrorists will incur no condemnation.

Nor affect in any way the continued supplying of arms, cash, and covert military

"Syrian Rebels" Are Libyan Terrorists

The recent consulate attack in Benghazi, Libya, resulting in the death of US Ambassador Christopher Stevens, was carried out by the very terrorist groups the US and NATO armed and backed in the overthrow of the Libyan government in 2011.

These same terrorists organizations, predominately led by the US State Department, United Nations, and the UK Home Office (page 5, .pdf)-listed Libyan Islamic Fighting Group (LIFG), promptly directed fighters, cash, and arms, funnelled through NATO-member Turkey, to assist in the violent overthrow of the Syrian government.

In November 2011, the Telegraph in their article, "Leading Libyan Islamist met Free Syrian Army opposition group," would report:

Abdulahakim Belhadj, head of the Tripoli Military Council and the former leader of the Libyan Islamic Fighting Group, 'met with Free Syrian Army leaders in Istanbul and on the border with Turkey,' said a military official working with Mr Belhadj.

'Mustafa Abdul Jalil (the interim Libyan president) sent him there.'

Another Telegraph article, "Libya's new rulers offer weapons to Syrian rebels," would admit Syrian rebels held secret talks with Libya's new authorities on Friday, aiming to secure weapons and money for their insurgency against President Bashar al-Assad's regime, The Daily Telegraph has learned.

At the meeting, which was held in Istanbul and included Turkish officials, the Syrians requested 'assistance' from the Libyan representatives and were offered arms, and potentially volunteers.

'There is something being planned to send weapons and even Libyan fighters to Syria,' said a Libyan source, speaking on condition of anonymity.

'There is a military intervention on the way.

Within a few weeks you will see.'

Later that month, some 600 Libyan terrorists would be reported to have entered Syria to begin combat operations and as recently as last month, CNN, whose Ivan Watson accompanied terrorists over the Turkish-Syrian border and into Aleppo, revealed that indeed foreign fighters were amongst the militants, particularly Libyans. It was admitted that:

Meanwhile, residents of the village where the Syrian Falcons were headquartered said there were fighters of several North African nationalities also serving with the brigade's ranks.

A volunteer Libyan fighter has also told CNN he intends to travel from Turkey to Syria within days to add a 'platoon' of Libyan fighters to armed movement.

CNN also added: - On Wednesday, CNN's crew met a Libyan fighter who had crossed into Syria from Turkey with four other Libyans. The fighter wore full camouflage and was carrying a Kalashnikov rifle.

He said more Libyan fighters were on the way.

The foreign fighters, some of them are clearly drawn because they see this as ... a jihad.

So this is a magnet for jihadists who see this as a fight for Sunni Muslims.

CNN's reports provide bookends to 2011's admissions that large numbers of Libyan terrorists flush with NATO cash and weapons had headed to Syria, with notorious terrorist LIFG commanders making the arrangements.

In essence, Syria has been under invasion for nearly a year by US and NATO-backed Libyan terrorists.

Human Rights Watch now confirms that these terrorists are carrying out a brutal, systematic campaign of torture and extra-judicial murder.

It should be remembered that they do so with Western, NATO, and Gulf State cash and weapons, as well as significant political support.

US-backed Syrian Terror Campaign Began in 2007 Under Bush, Continues Under Obama

A report published in 2007 by the New Yorker titled "The Redirection" (full article here), cited US, Saudi, and Lebanese officials who admitted that military and financial aid was already flowing to militant groups affiliated with both Al Qaeda and the Muslim Brotherhood with the aim of destabilizing Syria and Iran.

Former intelligence agents were also cited, warning that the plan, then being implemented under the Bush administration, would lead to a catastrophic sectarian bloodbath - the very sectarian bloodbath now unfolding in Syria today.

In the report, it explicitly states: - To undermine Iran, which is predominantly Shiite, the Bush Administration has decided, in effect, to reconfigure its priorities in the Middle East.

In Lebanon, the Administration has cooperated with Saudi Arabia's government, which is Sunni, in clandestine operations that are intended to weaken Hezbollah, the Shiite organization that is backed by Iran.

The U.S. has also taken part in clandestine operations aimed at Iran and its ally Syria. A by-product of these activities has been the bolstering of Sunni extremist groups that espouse a militant vision of Islam and are hostile to America and sympathetic to Al Qaeda. - Seymour Hersh, The Redirection (2007)

Hersh's report would also include: - The Saudi government, with Washington's approval, would provide funds and logistical aid to weaken the government of President Bashar Assad, of Syria.

The Israelis believe that putting such pressure on the Assad government will make it more conciliatory and open to negotiations." - Seymour Hersh, The Redirection (2007)

The article would continue by explaining how already in 2007 US and Saudi backing had begun benefiting the Brotherhood:

There is evidence that the Administration's redirection strategy has already benefited the Brotherhood.

The Syrian National Salvation Front is a coalition of opposition groups whose principal members are a faction led by Abdul Halim Khaddam, a former Syrian Vice-President who defected in 2005, and the Brotherhood.

A former high-ranking C.I.A. officer told me, 'The Americans have provided both political and financial support.

The Saudis are taking the lead with financial support, but there is American involvement.'

He said that Khaddam, who now lives in Paris, was getting money from Saudi Arabia, with the knowledge of the White House.

(In 2005, a delegation of the Front's members met with officials from the National Security Council, according to press reports.)

A former White House official told me that the Saudis had provided members of the Front with travel documents. -The Redirection, Seymour Hersh

It is clear that the campaign to violently overthrow the Syrian government through the use of terrorists both domestic and foreign, all with ties to extremist groups including Al Qaeda and the Muslim Brotherhood began under Bush and continues to this day under current US President Barack Obama.

Cass Sunstein's Cognitive Infiltration 101 - As the West's narrative falls apart, cognitive infiltration begins.

Propagandists like Dinesh D'Souza attempt to compartmentalize responsibility by claiming Obama unilaterally carried out the long-planned operations and US support for Al Qaeda on his own - a manifestation of his "hatred for America."

In reality, Obama is simply carrying out the latest leg of a corporate-financier driven agenda decades in the making.

D'Souza interviews Daniel Pipes, a Neo-Con salesman for the very policy Obama is carrying out, and a contemporary of fellow Neo-Cons who were amongst the most vocal supporters of the "united states of Islam" he claims Obama single-handedly created.

While methods of cognitive infiltration are attempted - most notably the recent "2016 Obama's America," - to manage public perception and revelations that the US is indeed militarily backing legions of Al Qaeda fighters from Libya to Syria and beyond, Obama's alleged ideological opponents, the Neo-Conservatives have literally penned letters to Obama imploring him to expand military support for terrorists operating in Syria - now exposed by Human Rights Watch as conducting vicious crimes against humanity.

The letter covered by Foreign Policy's article, "Conservatives call on Obama to establish 'safe zones' in Syria," was signed by notorious Neo-Conservative co-conspirators in the invasion of Iraq including Elliott Abrams, Karl Rove, Paul Bremer, Robert Joseph, and Douglas Feith, along with advisers to the Mitt Romney campaign, including Eric Edelman, Jamie Fly, Robert Kagan, and Stephen Rademaker, as well as Syrian National Council member, Radwah Ziadeh.

Radwah Ziadeh, it should be remembered, is also a "senior fellow" of the US State Department's US Institute for Peace (USIP) which has just revealed it is behind training, coaching, and tutoring Syria's opposition leaders as well as preparing Syria's new constitution, currently being called a, "transition strategy document."

Perhaps the most disturbing aspect of the Neo-Cons' letter is that it essentially calls for a Libya-style no-fly zone.

We urge you to take immediate steps, in close and continuing consultation with the Congress, to work with regional partners to establish air-patrolled 'safe zones' covering already liberated areas within Syria, using military power not only to protect these zones from further aggression by the Assad regime's military and irregular forces, but also to neutralize the threat posed by the Syrian dictatorship's chemical and biological weapons.

Clearly, US involvement in both the Libyan and Syrian conflicts is not an exclusive feature of the "Obama administration," but rather preceded it, permeates it, and will certainly survive it should Obama fail to be reelected in 2012.

The only difference will be the narrative that is used to sell it for the next 4 years.

Bottom Line

Even the West's own NGOs can no longer maintain the illusion that the wave of terror created to overthrow Wall Street and London's enemies are somehow "freedom fighters."

Cognitive infiltration - the creation of "conspiracy theories" to spin and control public perception versus an emerging alternative media - is attempting to compartmentalize responsibility for the West's use of listed terror organizations and the myriad of crimes they've carried out from Libya to Syria and beyond.

By rejecting the tired left-right paradigm, and realizing that there is a singular agenda, transcending all political parties and alleged "ideologies," leaves bare the truth behind this agenda, regardless of who inherits it next.

By rejecting these false paradigms, we hobble new narratives that attempt to carry forward this singular agenda - like Mitt Romney's "American Exceptionalism," and the establishment's attempt to revitalize the fraudulent "War on Terror" narrative.

The agenda does not change, because the corporate-financier interests driving it do not change.

If we aspire to change or obstruct this agenda of achieving global hegemony for the benefit of special interests at the cost of the people, we must identify, boycott, and replace the corporations and institutions themselves, not wrestle endlessly with their troupe of proxies, politicians, and controlled paradigms.

The UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IS THE World's Greatest TERRORIST ORGANIZATION

<http://american-genocide.net/firms.com/html/americanstateterrorism/index.html>

The Greatest Acts of Terrorism are not committed by furtive gangs of masked desperados in foreign lands.

The most horrific acts of terrorism in world history have always been committed by governments and their militaries.

The government and military of the United States of America have committed massive acts of international terrorism and brutal genocide — from 1899 to the present day.

OPERATION INVENTION OF DISEASES.
OPERATION GLOBAL PROPAGANDA.
OPERATION FEW CONTROLLING THE

What I'm saying is, these are, in fact, planned and launched and promoted and funded and carried out in the same way that any intelligence operation would be.

And on PREMIUM CONTENT, I go into great detail to explain the guts of these operations, the lies, the fabrications, the false science, the cover stories floated to obscure what is really going on, the propaganda that is aimed at convincing people that these and other operations are just accidents and natural occurrences and tragedies and lone-nut crimes.

What is an intelligence operation?

It is a plan conceived in secret to achieve an aim that is illegal, immoral, criminal.

The plan designs several courses of action that will be taken to achieve the goal.

Built into the plan are the secrecy and the cover stories (lies) that will be floated to falsely explain the end result (e.g., the destruction of the Murrah building in OKC and the deaths of 168 people).

These cover stories are essential, so that the planners are concealed.

Cover stories misdirect the attention of the public.

The press reports all the cover stories as if they are true.

An intelligence operation (op) uses layers of CUTOUTS.

Cut outs are lower level people and groups who carry out parts of the op.

Some cut outs know more than others.

But cut outs do not know the real reason they are carrying out their assignments.

Which means they do not see the biggest picture.

They are not meant to.

Good intelligence operations are COMPARTMENTALIZED.

In other words, the various cut outs are contributing pieces of work that, all told, add up to the successful execution of the op.

But key cut outs are kept separate from one another.

More protection of the people at the top who do not want to be exposed.

Good intelligence operations lay down FALSE TRAILS.

These are specific cover stories designed to swallow up smart investigators who try to get beyond the more obvious lies.

False trails are seeded with clues which look hot, but after a time, the trails peter out.

Thus, the energy and resources of the investigator are exhausted, and he throws up his hands and gives up.

A good intelligence operation has people who can be brought in to DISCREDIT independent investigators who are actually seeing the truth.

Discrediting a person may involve telling damaging lies about him, questioning his sanity, planting false evidence on him that makes him look like a criminal, and so on.

Or, if there are things the investigator has done which the public would find objectionable, these are brought to light.

A good intelligence operation is prepared to stage events that will DISTRACT the public at crucial moments.

In that case, one op covers up another one.

A good intelligence operation will do whatever it takes to impede a really solid crime-scene investigation.

For example, in the case of 9/11, the government moved to name perpetrators very quickly, and essentially declared a state of war.

This took the whole thing out of the realm of a crime investigation.

Evidence was no longer considered in a true light.

The AGENDA dictated all the moves.

So...those are some of the key elements of an op.

On PREMIUM CONTENT, I offer miles of info on these ops.

I do the crime-scene investigation, so to speak.

I uncover the facts.

And therefore the cover stories are exposed.

This is not easy work.

I have been doing it for 20 years.

I "went independent" as an investigative reporter in the middle 1980s, when I realized that most press outlets wanted to print cover stories.

I learned all about their game.

I had to.

I also had to penetrate what I call PERMANENT COVER STORIES.

These are generalized lies that are told over and over, lies that are very useful whenever a situation has to be buried or mis-explained.

For instance, we have the ever-wonderful Left versus Right.

So many ops are absorbed into that framework.

"This happened because the Left was trying to...the Right was trying to..."

The Left versus Right cover story always turns out to be a low-level explanation that never gets to the heart of the op.

It's a cover story that is USED, at the highest levels of planetary power, to keep people in the dark.

A snake BITES.

That's what he does.

The people at the top CONTROL.

It matters not what you call that.

So I hope you will click on the box at the top-center of this page and subscribe to PREMIUM CONTENT.

It is the one thing that keeps this free site alive.

In August of this year, I will be doing a two-day seminar in San Diego.

The seminar is titled, THE TRADITION OF IMAGINATION AND THE FORMULA OF THE SECRET SOCIETY.

I will dig deeper and deeper and give you my latest research on the big, big picture, and talk about SOLUTIONS.

About what we can do. About a kind of human psychology and consciousness that is almost never discussed or implemented.

(You can click on the other box at the top of this page and find out more and sign up.)

This is going to be an EVENT---I assure you.

PLANET EARTH IS AN OP.

Populations are diverted, distracted, repressed, injured, and kept in the dark.

As we move into human ant colonies of the 21st century, more and more people are going to be living on the edge.

In these great pools of darkness, the controllers are going to shine spotlights on select areas where they tell you you will be safe and protected.

They will, in effect, tell you that you can come in out of the cold.

For this privilege, you will be asked to give up everything that is at the core of your power.

You will be asked to forget that you have any power.

For most people, this will be no problem, because they have long ago forgotten about such power.

BUT IT IS THERE.

It is always there.

The game is never over.

The adventure is just beginning.

US Officials Tie Terror Group to Syrian Bombings

Top U.S. intelligence officials told Congress Thursday that al-Qaida of Iraq was likely behind a series of bombings against the Syrian regime in recent months.

Director of National Intelligence James Clapper said bombings against security and intelligence targets in Damascus and Aleppo bear “all the earmarks of an al-Qaida-like attack”, leading the U.S. intelligence community to believe the Iraqi militant branch is extending its reach into Syria.

Top U.S. intelligence officials told Congress Thursday that al-Qaida of Iraq was likely behind a series of bombings against the Syrian regime in recent months.

Director of National Intelligence James Clapper said bombings against security and intelligence targets in Damascus and Aleppo bear “all the earmarks of an al-Qaida-like attack”, leading the U.S. intelligence community to believe the Iraqi militant branch is extending its reach into Syria.

He added that Syrian opposition groups may have been infiltrated by al-Qaida, likely without their knowledge.

Clapper said the lack of a unified opposition group could leave a power vacuum that extremists could fill if the Syrian government falls, a potential development he called “troubling,” because Syria has an extensive network of chemical weapons sites.

Defense Intelligence Agency chief Lt. Gen. Ronald Burgess added that it appears “the al-Qaida like attacks” were likely caused by elements already inside the country, and that the U.S. intelligence community had not yet detected “a clarion call to outsiders” to join the cause.

While the corporate media is finally starting to put news reports online, in the face of a growing pile of insurmountable evidence may I add, admitting that Al-Qaeda terrorists are behind rebel bombings and attacks on Syrian government forces, those reports are tucked hidden in the dark corners of the internet where only savvy users will find them.

For example:

The Iraqi branch of al Qaida, seeking to exploit the bloody turmoil in Syria to reassert its potency, carried out two recent bombings in the Syrian capital, Damascus, and likely was behind suicide bombings Friday that killed at least 28 people in the largest city, Aleppo, U.S. officials told McClatchy.

China and Russia have made it clear that the west's refusal to acknowledge that Syria's peaceful protestors are in fact armed terrorists waging a campaign of indiscriminate violence is the reason they vetoed the initial UN resolution on Syria.

Now, the UN has passed a resolution calling for Syria Regime change despite the threat of a Russian military intervention.

US Trains Terrorists In Kuwait Camps

Friday, 20 April 2012

The United States military has been training terrorists in a military base in Kuwait, preparing them for attacks in the Middle Eastern countries.

The recruits are sent to the "Arifjan" base where they receive military training and learn methods of bombing and terror operations within a three month period, according to reports.

The US military then sends the trained terrorists as ringleaders to countries such as Iran, Iraq and Syria to set up terror networks inside these countries and embark on terrorist activities and carry out acts of sabotage with the support of Saudi Arabia and Qatar.

US Trains Terrorists In Kuwait Camps: Report

A US Army soldier carries his gear after arriving in Kuwait from Iraq. Wed Apr 18, 2012 6:16PM GMT

The United States military has been training terrorists in a military base in Kuwait, preparing them for attacks in the Middle Eastern countries.

The recruits are sent to the “Arifjan” base where they receive military training and learn methods of bombing and terror operations within a three month period, according to reports.

The US military then sends the trained terrorists as ringleaders to countries such as Iran, Iraq and Syria to set up terror networks inside these countries and embark on terrorist activities and carry out acts of sabotage with the support of Saudi Arabia and Qatar.

The US military is currently in control of large parts of Kuwait and thousands of soldiers who have left Iraq are currently stationed there.

The US dispatched some 15,000 troops to Kuwait late last year after withdrawing its forces from Iraq.

Kuwaiti residents are not allowed to enter these areas without a permit.

U.S. Trained Terror Group

When the U.S. wants to fund, train, arm or otherwise align itself with a Terrorist group or state sponsor of Terror — as it often does — it at least usually has the tact to first remove them from its formal terrorist list (as the U.S. did when it wanted to support Saddam in 1982 and work with Libya in 2006), or it just keeps them off the list altogether despite what former Council on Foreign Relations writer Lionel Beehner described as “mounds of evidence that [they] at one time or another abetted terrorists” (as it has done with close U.S. allies in Saudi Arabia and Pakistan, along with the El Salvadoran death squads and Nicaraguan contras armed and funded in the 1980s by the Reagan administration).

But according to a new, multi-sourced report from The New Yorker’s Seymour Hersh, the U.S. did not even bother going through those motions when, during the Bush years, it trained the Iranian dissident group Mujahideen-e-Khalq (MEK) at a secretive Department of Energy site in Nevada.

It was here that the Joint Special Operations Command (JSOC) conducted training, beginning in 2005, for members of the Mujahideen-e-Khalq, a dissident Iranian opposition group known in the West as the M.E.K.

The M.E.K.'s ties with Western intelligence deepened after the fall of the Iraqi regime in 2003, and JSOC began operating inside Iran in an effort to substantiate the Bush Administration's fears that Iran was building the bomb at one or more secret underground locations.

Funds were covertly passed to a number of dissident organizations, for intelligence collection and, ultimately, for anti-regime terrorist activities.

Directly, or indirectly, the M.E.K. ended up with resources like arms and intelligence.

Some American-supported covert operations continue in Iran today, according to past and present intelligence officials and military consultants.

Despite the growing ties, and a much-intensified lobbying effort organized by its advocates, M.E.K. has remained on the State Department's list of foreign terrorist organizations – which meant that secrecy was essential in the Nevada training.

"We did train them here, and washed them through the Energy Department because the D.O.E. owns all this land in southern Nevada," a former senior American intelligence official told me.

“We were deploying them over long distances in the desert and mountains, and building their capacity in communications — coördinating commo is a big deal.”

A JSOC spokesman told Hersh that “U.S. Special Operations Forces were neither aware of nor involved in the training of M.E.K. members,” but a MEK lawyer refused to confirm or deny the report, arguing that any such training would undercut the U.S. Government’s claims that MEK belongs on the Terrorist list.

In February, NBC News’ Richard Engel and Robert Windrem reported, based on two anonymous “senior U.S. officials,” that MEK was the group perpetrating a series of “sophisticated” assassinations of Iranian nuclear scientists (using bombs and rifles).

NBC also reported that Israel — specifically its Mossad intelligence service — is “financing, training and arming” MEK: in other words, that Israel is a state sponsor of this designated Terrorist group.

Various reports have also indicated that the MEK, with Israeli support, was responsible for a string of explosions on Iranian soil.

Hersh obtained independent confirmation of all these claims: The former senior intelligence official I spoke with seconded the NBC report that the Israelis were working with the M.E.K., adding that the operations benefited from American intelligence.

He said that the targets were not “Einsteins”; “The goal is to affect Iranian psychology and morale,” he said, and to “demoralize the whole system — nuclear delivery vehicles, nuclear enrichment facilities, power plants.”

Attacks have also been carried out on pipelines.

He added that the operations are “primarily being done by M.E.K. through liaison with the Israelis, but the United States is now providing the intelligence.”

An adviser to the special-operations community told me that the links between the United States and M.E.K. activities inside Iran had been long-standing.

“Everything being done inside Iran now is being done with surrogates,” he said.

So let’s review what we have here. If this report is true, it means the U.S. Government actively trained a group that the U.S. Government itself legally categorizes as a “foreign terrorist organization,” a clear felony under U.S. law:

Whoever knowingly provides material support or resources to a foreign terrorist organization, or attempts or conspires to do so, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than 15 years, or both, and, if the death of any person results, shall be imprisoned for any term of years or for life.

That alone compels serious DOJ and Congressional investigations into these claims.

Worse, this reportedly happened at the very same time that the U.S. aggressively prosecuted and imprisoned numerous Muslims for providing material support for groups on that list even though many of those prosecuted provided support that was far, far less than what the U.S. Government itself was providing to MEK.

Meanwhile, right at this moment, America's closest ally — Israel — is clearly a state sponsor of this designated Terrorist organization, providing training, funding and arms to it, and the U.S. may very well be as well (independent of all else, given that Israel is the largest recipient of U.S. aid, the U.S., at the very least, is financing a state sponsor of Terror).

At the same time, a glittering bipartisan cast of former Washington officials is receiving large payments from this designated Terrorist group, meeting with its leaders, and then advocating on its behalf — again, providing far more material support than many powerless, marginalized Muslims who have been and continue to be prosecuted under this law.

All of this appears to be clearly criminal regardless of whether MEK belongs on the list — once a group is placed by the State Department on the list, whether justifiably or not, it is a felony to provide material support to it — but MEK appears to be doing exactly that which is typically considered Terrorism

Assassinating civilian scientists (and severely wounding their wives) with bombs and causing other civilian-killing explosions on Iranian soil in order to induce fear.

In the above-linked LA Times Op-Ed by CFR's Lionel Beehner, he derides the U.S. list of state sponsors of terrorism as "one of the biggest farces of U.S. foreign policy."

Indeed it is, but that's equally true of the pervasive, righteous use of the term "terrorist" or "terrorism supporter" in our political and media discourse generally.

Anyone in government, media and think tank circles who routinely and angrily accuse others of being "terrorists" or "supporters of terrorism" without recognizing that the U.S. and its closest allies are plainly and routinely guilty of that is just a rank propagandist.

That the U.S., in the midst of its vaunted War on Terror, directly trained a group on its own Terrorist list — while its closest ally and Washington's venerated former officials continue to provide ample support to that group even as it escalates its violent acts – is about as conclusive a demonstration of that fact as one could have conjured.

UPDATE: The law that criminalizes the providing of "material support" to a designated terrorist organization explicitly includes

In its definition section exactly that which The New Yorker reports the U.S. gave and perhaps continues to give to MEK.

(b) Definitions.— As used in this section—

(1) The term “Material support or resources” means any property, tangible or intangible, or service, including currency or monetary instruments or financial securities, financial services, lodging, training, expert advice or assistance . . .

(2) The term “training” means instruction or teaching designed to impart a specific skill, as opposed to general knowledge; and

(3) The term “expert advice or assistance” means advice or assistance derived from scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge.

U.S. government officials — whether current or former — are no more entitled to commit felonies and violate U.S. statutes than any other citizens are.

Our Men in Iran?

From the air, the terrain of the Department of Energy’s Nevada National Security Site, with its arid high plains and remote mountain peaks, has the look of northwest Iran.

The site, some sixty-five miles northwest of Las Vegas, was once used for nuclear testing, and now includes a counterintelligence training facility and a private airport capable of handling Boeing 737 aircraft.

It's a restricted area, and inhospitable—in certain sections, the curious are warned that the site's security personnel are authorized to use deadly force, if necessary, against intruders.

It was here that the Joint Special Operations Command (JSOC) conducted training, beginning in 2005, for members of the Mujahideen-e-Khalq, a dissident Iranian opposition group known in the West as the M.E.K.

The M.E.K. had its beginnings as a Marxist-Islamist student-led group and, in the nineteen-seventies, it was linked to the assassination of six American citizens.

It was initially part of the broad-based revolution that led to the 1979 overthrow of the Shah of Iran.

But, within a few years, the group was waging a bloody internal war with the ruling clerics, and, in 1997, it was listed as a foreign terrorist organization by the State Department.

In 2002, the M.E.K. earned some international credibility by publicly revealing—accurately—that Iran had begun enriching uranium at a secret underground location.

Mohamed ElBaradei, who at the time was the director general of the International Atomic Energy Agency, the United Nations' nuclear monitoring agency, told me later that he had been informed that the information was supplied by the Mossad.

The M.E.K.'s ties with Western intelligence deepened after the fall of the Iraqi regime in 2003, and JSOC began operating inside Iran in an effort to substantiate the Bush Administration's fears that Iran was building the bomb at one or more secret underground locations.

Funds were covertly passed to a number of dissident organizations, for intelligence collection and, ultimately, for anti-regime terrorist activities.

Directly, or indirectly, the M.E.K. ended up with resources like arms and intelligence.

Some American-supported covert operations continue in Iran today, according to past and present intelligence officials and military consultants.

Despite the growing ties, and a much-intensified lobbying effort organized by its advocates, M.E.K. has remained on the State Department's list of foreign terrorist organizations—which meant that secrecy was essential in the Nevada training.

"We did train them here, and washed them through the Energy Department because the D.O.E. owns all this land in southern Nevada," a former senior American intelligence official told me.

"We were deploying them over long distances in the desert and mountains, and building their capacity in communications—coördinating commo is a big deal."

(A spokesman for J.S.O.C. said that "U.S. Special Operations Forces were neither aware of nor involved in the training of M.E.K. members.")

The training ended sometime before President Obama took office, the former official said.

In a separate interview, a retired four-star general, who has advised the Bush and Obama Administrations on national-security issues, said that he had been privately briefed in 2005 about the training of Iranians associated with the M.E.K. in Nevada by an American involved in the program.

They got “the standard training,” he said, “in commo, crypto [cryptography], small-unit tactics, and weaponry—that went on for six months,” the retired general said.

“They were kept in little pods.”

He also was told, he said, that the men doing the training were from JSOC, which, by 2005, had become a major instrument in the Bush Administration’s global war on terror.

“The JSOC trainers were not front-line guys who had been in the field, but second- and third-tier guys—trainers and the like—and they started going off the reservation.

‘If we’re going to teach you tactics, let me show you some really sexy stuff...’ ”

It was the ad-hoc training that provoked the worried telephone calls to him, the former general said. “I told one of the guys who called me that they were all in over their heads, and all of them could end up trouble unless they got something in writing.

The Iranians are very, very good at counterintelligence, and stuff like this is just too hard to contain.”

The site in Nevada was being utilized at the same time, he said, for advanced training of elite Iraqi combat units.

(The retired general said he only knew of the one M.E.K.-affiliated group that went through the training course the former senior intelligence official said that he was aware of training that went on through 2007.)

Allan Gerson, a Washington attorney for the M.E.K., notes that the M.E.K. has publicly and repeatedly renounced terror.

Gerson said he would not comment on the alleged training in Nevada.

But such training, if true, he said, would be “especially incongruent with the State Department’s decision to continue to maintain the M.E.K. on the terrorist list.

How can the U.S. train those on State’s foreign terrorist list, when others face criminal penalties for providing a nickel to the same organization?”

Robert Baer, a retired C.I.A. agent who is fluent in Arabic and had worked under cover in Kurdistan and throughout the Middle East in his career, initially had told me in early 2004 of being recruited by a private American company—working, so he believed, on behalf of the Bush Administration—to return to Iraq.

“They wanted me to help the M.E.K. collect intelligence on Iran’s nuclear program,” Baer recalled.

"They thought I knew Farsi, which I did not. I said I'd get back to them, but never did."

Baer, now living in California, recalled that it was made clear to him at the time that the operation was "a long-term thing—not just a one-shot deal."

Massoud Khodabandeh, an I.T. expert now living in England who consults for the Iraqi government, was an official with the M.E.K. before defecting in 1996.

In a telephone interview, he acknowledged that he is an avowed enemy of the M.E.K., and has advocated against the group.

Khodabandeh said that he had been with the group since before the fall of the Shah and, as a computer expert, was deeply involved in intelligence activities as well as providing security for the M.E.K. leadership.

For the past decade, he and his English wife have run a support program for other defectors. Khodabandeh told me that he had heard from more recent defectors about the training in Nevada.

He was told that the communications training in Nevada involved more than teaching how to keep in contact during attacks—it also involved communication intercepts.

The United States, he said, at one point found a way to penetrate some major Iranian communications systems.

At the time, he said, the U.S. provided M.E.K. operatives with the ability to intercept telephone calls and text messages inside Iran—which M.E.K. operatives translated and shared with American signals intelligence experts. He does not know whether this activity is ongoing.

Five Iranian nuclear scientists have been assassinated since 2007.

M.E.K. spokesmen have denied any involvement in the killings, but early last month NBC News quoted two senior Obama Administration officials as confirming that the attacks were carried out by M.E.K. units that were financed and trained by Mossad, the Israeli secret service.

NBC further quoted the Administration officials as denying any American involvement in the M.E.K. activities.

The former senior intelligence official I spoke with seconded the NBC report that the Israelis were working with the M.E.K., adding that the operations benefitted from American intelligence.

He said that the targets were not “Einsteins”

“The goal is to affect Iranian psychology and morale,” he said, and to “demoralize the whole system—nuclear delivery vehicles, nuclear enrichment facilities, power plants.”

Attacks have also been carried out on pipelines.

He added that the operations are “primarily being done by M.E.K. through liaison with the Israelis, but the United States is now providing the intelligence.”

An adviser to the special-operations community told me that the links between the United States and M.E.K. activities inside Iran had been long-standing.

“Everything being done inside Iran now is being done with surrogates,” he said.

The sources I spoke to were unable to say whether the people trained in Nevada were now involved in operations in Iran or elsewhere.

But they pointed to the general benefit of American support.

“The M.E.K. was a total joke,” the senior Pentagon consultant said, “and now it’s a real network inside Iran.

How did the M.E.K. get so much more efficient?” he asked rhetorically.

Part of it is the training in Nevada.

Part of it is logistical support in Kurdistan, and part of it is inside Iran.

M.E.K. now has a capacity for efficient operations than it never had before.”

In mid-January, a few days after an assassination by car bomb of an Iranian nuclear scientist in Tehran, Secretary of Defense Leon Panetta, at a town-hall meeting of soldiers at Fort Bliss, Texas, acknowledged that the U.S. government has "some ideas as to who might be involved, but we don't know exactly who was involved."

He added, "But I can tell you one thing: the United States was not involved in that kind of effort. That's not what the United States does."

Extremists Ravaging Syria Created by US in 2007

US, Saudi Arabia, and Israel funded and have backed regional army of Sunni terrorists since 2007 specifically to overthrow Syria and Iran.

May 11, 2012 - A 2007 New Yorker article written by renowned journalist Seymour Hersh revealed a plan under the Bush Administration to organize, arm, train, and deploy a regional army of Sunni terrorists, many with ties directly to Al Qaeda, in a bid to destabilize and overthrow both Syria and Iran.

The plan consisted of US and Israeli backing, covertly funneled through Saudi proxies to conceal Washington and Tel Aviv's role, in building the Sunni extremist front.

According to Seymour Hersh's 2007 article, "The Redirection: Is the Administration's new policy benefiting our enemies in the war on terrorism?,"

- (1) Saudi Arabia, a more credible candidate for openly interfacing with the militants, openly admitted that it was a danger, but that they "created it," therefore could "control it," in meetings with Washington.

The plan called for not only setting up enclaves in nations neighboring Syria, including Lebanon, Jordan, and US-occupied Iraq, but also for building up the Muslim Brotherhood, both inside Syria's borders and beyond - including Egypt.

Hersh's work now holds new relevance as revelations that indeed a Sunni-extremist element is behind the violence in Syria, including a horrific bombing in Damascus

(2) That has killed scores and injured hundreds.

That these Sunni elements are openly supported by Saudi Arabia and other Gulf states, with militants and weapons flowing in from the above mentioned Iraq, Jordan, and Lebanon,

(3) Just as planned in 2007, shows clearly that the US-Israeli-Saudi plan is unfolding just as intended.

As the West feigns shock and horror over the rise of their Sunni front, from Egypt to Syria, and beyond, along with the resurrection of the Muslim Brotherhood, who Hersh confirmed was already benefiting from US and Saudi aid in 2007, it is clear that in reality this is the fruition of a complex premeditated plan, years in the making.

The accomplices include Neo-Conservatives Dick Cheney, Elliott Abrams, and Zalmay Khalilzad - who also serves on the board of the US State Department's National Endowment for Democracy,

(4) a chief facilitator of the "Arab Spring" destabilizations that brought the Muslim Brotherhood (purposefully) back into the Middle East's political landscape after Arab nations fought difficult battles against their brand of violent extremism and anti-secular policies.

Martin Indyk of the State Department under former President Clinton, former Ambassador to Israel, and a director at the corporate-financier funded think-tank, the Brookings Institution, was also mentioned in Hersh's report, and was a co-author of the infamous 2009 "Which Path to Persia?" report,

(5) Openly declaring US machinations in bringing down the Iranian government.

Saudi Arabia's Prince Bandar is noted by Hersh as instrumental in coordinating efforts between the Saudis, Israel, and the United States, while the political party built up around pro-Saudi Lebanese tycoon Rafic Hariri set the groundwork in Lebanon for the creation of a violent Sunni front.

With Sunni-extremists committing increasingly frequent and violent atrocities across Syria, the US and the Western media in general, has attempted to portray it as a natural progression of Syria's internal conflict - when in reality, based on Hersh's report and confirmed again more recently as the source of the rebels' funding and support is revealed, it is clearly the result of this long-planned act of foreign aggression against Syria, perpetrated by the US, Israel, Saudi Arabia, and their Sunni proxies in the Muslim Brotherhood.

Hersh's report had warned of the tragic consequences to be expected once this Sunni-front had been unleashed, namely, according to former CIA agent Robert Baer in Lebanon, "Sunni Arabs carrying out a "cataclysmic conflict."

Baer warned of the need to protect Christians from a predictable onslaught by Sunni extremists - an onslaught now playing out against Syria's 10% Christian population, according to the LA Times' "Church fears 'ethnic cleansing' of Christians in Homs, Syria,"

(6) And more recently in USA Today's distorted, but still telling, "Christians in Syria live in uneasy alliance with Assad, Alawites."

(7) Christians are not the only minorities being targeted by the US-Israeli-Saudi terrorist front, but all minorities are as is secularism itself, being systematically targeted, as is the case after the NATO-backed dismemberment of Libya.

(8) As the US State Department, and the US representative to the UN, Susan Rice attempt to portray terrorist violence in Syria as the fault of Syria's government for not yielding to "international" demands - we must remember that while they are absolutely correct - it is not because the Syrian government has reaped the consequences of inciting its own people into violence, but is instead suffering the consequences of disobeying foreign interests who have at their disposal a vast terrorist army they have been preparing for years - designed solely to undermine and depose the Syrian and Iranian governments.

Syria: 70 killed in huge Damascus explosions:

Syrian Ministry of Interior says 70 people were killed by the explosions, including 15 whose bodies were completely torn apart.

Syria unrest: Bomb attack foiled in Aleppo - state TV

1 May 2012 Last updated at 15:01 GMT

Syria has foiled a attempted suicide car bomb attack in the northern city of Aleppo, state TV says, a day after massive blasts in the capital Damascus.

It says the security forces killed the would-be bomber, who had 1,200kg (2,640lb) of explosives in the car.

On Thursday, 55 people died in the two Damascus blasts near a military intelligence building.

Syrian officials say "foreign-backed terrorists" carried out the twin suicide car-bomb attacks.

On Friday, Syria's state TV said the attempted attack had been thwarted in Aleppo's al-Shaar area.

It said the bomber was killed before he could detonate the powerful device.

There has been no independent verification of the report so far.

Syrian activists in Aleppo immediately dismissed the report as "a lie".

"It is not in the interests of the (rebel) Free Syrian Army to stage attacks on a Friday," activist Mohammad al-Halabi told the AFP news agency.

He said Friday had traditionally been the day of weekly mass anti-regime protests in recent months.

Opposition activists have accused the government of President Bashar al-Assad of staging bomb attacks, including Thursday's, in an attempt to discredit them.

'Terrible violence'

Thursday's blasts caused massive destruction in a suburb to the south of Damascus. The Syrian authorities said that almost 400 people were wounded in Thursday's attacks in Damascus.

The interior ministry said the attackers used two cars "loaded with more than 1,000kg of explosives and driven by suicide bombers".

The explosions damaged the facade of a 10-storey military intelligence building involved in the crackdown on the uprising against President Assad's rule.

It is part of a broader military compound of the Palestine Branch, one of the most feared among the more than 20 secret police organisations in the country, correspondents say.

The unit was originally set up in the 1950s to interrogate suspected Israeli spies.

But it has evolved into the country's counter-terrorism unit, and is infamous for interrogations and torture, they say.

Large crowds later gathered despite the security cordon, shouting slogans and chants in support of President Assad.

The Norwegian head of the UN observer mission in Syria, Maj Gen Robert Mood, said the Syrian people did not deserve this "terrible violence".

The blasts have been widely condemned by the international community.

The UN says at least 9,000 people have died since pro-democracy protests began in March 2011.

Syria says attackers came from "well known" countries:

Syria's UN Ambassador did not name the countries in an address delivered to the 15-nation council, which was meeting on international terrorism.

But he had been accusing Saudi Arabia and Qatar, and also al Qaeda, for assisting the armed opposition in Syria.

Syria envoy says British, French, Belgian fighters killed:

Syria's UN envoy said Thursday that British, French and Belgian nationals were among foreign fighters killed in the country's mounting conflict and that there was Al-Qaeda involvement.
